Rationale:

To protect the safety and promote the wellbeing of children and young persons who are receiving services from any staff member of the Boarding House, or are associated with adults who are providing services to the Boarding House.

Scope:

This policy applies to all staff and should be used wherever abuse or neglect is suspected or identified, regardless of whether the child is a client of the Boarding House.

Objectives:

- The rights, welfare and safety of the child/tamariki, young person/rangatahi are our first and paramount consideration.
- Services should contribute to the nurturing and protection of children and advocate for them.
- Services for the care and protection of children are built on a bicultural partnership in accordance with the Treaty of Waitangi.
- Māori children/tamariki, young person's/rangatahi are assessed and managed within a culturally safe environment.
- Wherever possible the family/whānau, hapu and iwi participate in the making of decisions affecting that child/tamariki young person/rangatahi.
- All staff are to recognise and be sensitive to other cultures.
- Staff are competent in identification and management of actual or potential abuse and/or neglect through the organisation's policy and procedural structures and education programme.

- Ensure the interests and protection of the child are paramount in all circumstances.
- Ensure that all staff are able to identify the signs and symptoms of potential abuse and neglect, deal with disclosures by children and allegations against staff members and are able to take appropriate action in response.
- Organisation-wide procedures exist to provide appropriate, adequate support for, and supervision of, staff affected by child abuse and neglect.
- Promote a culture where staff feel confident they can constructively challenge poor practice or raise issues of concern without fear of reprisal.

- Consult, discuss and share relevant information, in line with our commitment to confidentiality and information sharing protocols, in a timely way regarding any concerns about an individual child with board or designated person.

Identifying suspected abuse and neglect - Procedure

Child abuse means the harming (whether physically, emotionally, or sexually), ill-treatment, abuse, neglect or deprivation of any child or young person. While there are different definitions of abuse, the important thing is to think about the overall wellbeing or risk of harm to the child. Often children are neglected or harmed when parents don't have the skills and knowledge to care for their children safely, or where the family system is not working well. If you notice a pattern forming or several signs that make you feel worried, this could be an indication that something's wrong. These signs may include: physical signs, behavioural concerns, developmental delays, obvious lack of care, talking about things that may indicate abuse and concerns about family environment.

Information on identifying possible abuse or neglect is detailed in 'Working together to keep children and young people safe. An Interagency Guide' (Child, Youth and Family, 2011, (Working Together)).

This document should be read in conjunction with this policy on an annual basis. The 'Signs of abuse and neglect' resource (Child Youth and Family) below provides a summary of this document.

Every situation is different and it's important to consider all available information about the child and their environment before reaching conclusions. For example, behavioural concerns may be the result of life events, such as parental divorce, accidental injury or the arrival of a new sibling etc

Responding to suspected abuse or neglect - Procedure

Outside Elizabeth House

- You are most likely to suspect abuse is by a parent but you cannot assume this. If you are concerned about the child going home, tell Oranga Tamariki or the Police.
- While the child is at the Boarding House ensure the child is not at risk of being further abused.
- Consider what other supports can be placed around the child

Inside Elizabeth House

- Maintain a close liaison with 'OT'/POLICE and discuss any future actions with them first
- Discuss the disclosure process with Police, and appropriateness of worker remaining on premises.
- Recommend the suspected abuser seeks legal advice.
- Ensure records are kept of any comments or event relating to the complainant(s) and/or allegations and follow up action is taken and documented.
- Seek employment and legal advice whilst following Individual Employment Agreements

Responding to a child when the child discloses abuse – Supporting Notes

Listen to the child	Disclosures by children are often subtle and need to be handled with particular care, including an awareness of the child's cultural identity and how that affects interpretation of their behaviour and language.
Reassure the child	Let the child know that they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Are not in trouble. • Have done the right thing.
Ask open- ended prompts e.g., "What happened next?"	Do not interview the child (in other words, do not ask questions beyond open prompts e.g. "what happened next"). Let them tell their story, but do not elicit detail. Document what is said. Do not make promises that can't be kept, e.g., "I will keep you safe now".
If the child is visibly distressed	Provide appropriate reassurance. Provide an alternative activity, space or keep them company while someone seeks the Guidance Counsellor or Hostel Manager. If very distressed, take the child with you.
If the abuser is allegedly a staff member	Inform Hostel manager. Document what is sad.
If the child is not in immediate danger	Re-involve the child in ordinary activities and explain what you are going to do next.
If the child is in immediate danger	Contact the Police immediately.
As soon as possible formally record the disclosure	Record: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Word for word, what the child said. • The date, time and who was present
What will happen next? Notifying authorities	You will have a full discussion of your concerns with the Guidance Counsellor and/or the Hostel Manager, no decision will be made in isolation. The safety of the child will be assessed. If the child is in immediate or imminent danger, Oranga Tamariki and or the Police will be contacted by the Guidance Counsellor/designated person to ensure their safety. The Hostel Manager will be kept fully informed. In severe instance or when a staff member is allegedly involved, the Hostel Board Chairperson will also be informed. Decisions about notifications will be collaborative and appropriate guidance will be accessed. If the child is safe in the short term, appropriate agencies will be contacted. If the abuse is from a person outside of the family, the parents/caregivers/whanau will be informed at the earliest opportunity under guidance from Oranga Tamariki and/or Police to ensure the child is not places at risk. Once a notification has been made, it may take some time for it to be processes. If further abuse is suspected or disclosed, an additional notification will be made.
Support	Dealing with abuse and neglect is very stressful. Support will be made available to the child, peers and staff members affected.

Supporting Notes:

- No decisions should be made in isolation. Employees as per procedure need to consult with the Child Protection Officer who in turn will consult other professionals where needed.
- Oranga Tamariki is responsible for looking into the situation to find out what may be happening, whether our organisation (Elizabeth House and Sacred Heart Girls' College New Plymouth) needs to work with the family/whānau or put them in touch with people in their community who can help.
- Oranga Tamariki will make the decision to inform the parents or caregivers, in consultation with our organisation (Elizabeth House and Sacred Heart Girls' College New Plymouth). Advise what, if any, immediate action may be appropriate, including referring the concern to the Police.
- Our organisation (Elizabeth House and Sacred Heart Girls' College New Plymouth) commits not to use 'settlement agreements', where these are contrary to a culture of child protection. Some settlement agreements allow a member of staff to agree to resign provided that no disciplinary action is taken, and a future reference is agreed. Where the conduct at issue concern the safety or wellbeing of a child, use of such agreements is contrary to a culture of child protection.

Responding to suspected abuse or harm within The Church - Procedure

If it is disclosed to you that someone has been abused or harmed within the Church, whether current or historical the following procedure is to be followed in accordance with the National Office for Professional Standards.

Elizabeth House - Recruitment, Screening and Vetting Procedure

1. The following checks will be completed for all people Elizabeth House is seeking to employ or engage as a children's worker.
2. Where Contractors, or other workers not directly employed enter the Boarding House premises, or have unsupervised contact with students at the boarding house, that Company/Employer must attest to having screened and vetted under the Vulnerable Children's Act their employees and they are fit to enter the premises. Written evidence of this must be cited, copied and kept on file.
3. Where Contractors/Employers other than Elizabeth House cannot verify that their employees have been screened and vetted under the Vulnerable Children's Act they are prohibited from entering the premises until this has been completed.

Children's Worker:

A children's worker is a person whose work involves regular (at least once each week or at least 4 days each month) or overnight contact with a child and that contact takes place without a parent or guardian being present. That work can be paid or unpaid work undertaken as part of an educational or vocational training course and contact includes by telephone or electronic means.

Core Worker:

A core worker is a children's worker who provides their service in a manner that requires or allows them to be the only children's worker present with a child or the children's worker who has primary responsibility or authority over the child.

Summary of the checks required - The table below summarises the checks required for:

- New children’s workers – anyone applying for a role as a children’s worker.
- Existing children’s workers – anyone currently employed by an organisation whose checks are being brought up to the required standard.
- Rechecks – the three-yearly rechecking for each person an organisation intends to continue to employ.

For each part of the check a link to more detailed information is provided.

Stand-down, Suspension and Exclusions Policy

Rational:

To ensure that there are recorded procedures which are consistently and fairly applied, considering the individual circumstances of each stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion

To ensure the Health & Safety of the individual concerned, and the boarding community as a whole.

Definitions:

Stand-down – formal removal of a student for a specified period. Stand-downs of a particular student can total no more than five full days in a term or ten full days in a year.

Suspension – formal removal of a student until The Mission College New Plymouth Trust Board (The Trust Board) decides the outcome of a suspension meeting.

Exclusion – formal removal of a student aged under 16 from the school/hostel that requires the student to enrol elsewhere.

Expulsion – formal removal of a student aged 16 or over from the school/hostel. If the student wishes to continue schooling she may enrol elsewhere.

Guidelines:

The Hostel Manager may stand down a girl who repeatedly offends through non-compliance with the rules that regulate normal boarding school operation. This stand down from boarding can be up to five full days, without reference to the disciplinary subcommittee of The Trust Board.

The disciplinary subcommittee will consist of the Hostel CEO, Chairperson of the Hostel Management Board and the Hostel Manager.

The Hostel Manager in consultation with the Hostel CEO can stand down a student immediately who compromises the Health & Safety of themselves or any other member of the boarding community, until such time as The Trust Board's subcommittee can formally decide on the consequences of the student's actions.

Formal suspensions (longer than five days), exclusions or expulsions from the boarding hostel must be referred to the disciplinary subcommittee of The Trust Board.

The procedures will be implemented by following the booklet "Guidelines for Principals and Board of Trustees on Stand-downs, Suspensions, Exclusions and Expulsions December 2009¹".

Stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion from Elizabeth House Hostel may include stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion from school depending on the nature of the event. Stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion from Sacred Heart Girls' College does mean stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion from Elizabeth House as the boarding facility is only available for current students at the college.

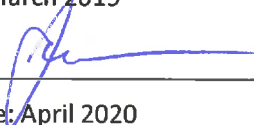

In all cases fees will be payable for the balance of the term or a period of 5 weeks, whichever is lesser.

Written records and details must be kept of all cases of stand-downs, suspensions, exclusions or expulsions. These records are regarded as privileged information. The records are the property of The Trust Board and the rights of students, parents, staff and The Trust Board will be respected.

The Trust Board will ensure that whenever stand-down, suspension, exclusion or expulsion decisions have to be made, procedures followed will be correctly, consistently and fairly applied.

Protected Disclosures Policy

The Mission College New Plymouth Trust Board (The Trust Board) adopts as a Policy the procedures in so far as they meet the requirements of the "Protected Disclosures Act 2000".

Guidelines:

Procedures for making a protected disclosure under the Protected Disclosures Act 2000.

1. If on reasonable grounds you believe you have information that a serious wrongdoing is occurring (or may occur) within the Boarding Hostel and you wish to disclose that information so it can be investigated, you can make a protected disclosure to the Principal.
2. This can be done verbally or in writing. The person should identify that the disclosure is being made under the "Protected Disclosure Act" and is following The Trust Board's procedure, provide detail of the complaint (disclosure), and who the complaint is against.
3. If the complainant believes that the Principal is involved in the wrongdoing, or has an association with the person committing the wrongdoing that would make it inappropriate to disclose them, then the complainant can make the disclosure to the chairperson of The Trust Board.
4. It is then up to the person disclosed to, to decide if the disclosure constitutes a serious wrongdoing, and that the allegations need investigating.
They can decide:
 - (a) to investigate the disclosure themselves
 - (b) to forward the disclosure to The Trust Board or a committee of the board to investigate
 - (c) to decide whether it needs to be passed on to an appropriate authority. If it goes to an appropriate authority, they will advise the complainant that they are now investigating the complaint.
5. If you believe that both the Principal and the chairperson of The Trust Board may be a party to the wrongdoing or in close relationship with the person/s involved in the wrongdoing you can approach an external "appropriate authority" directly yourself.

Who is an "appropriate authority?"

As noted above, in some circumstances the disclosure could be made to an appropriate authority by the complainant or the person to whom the complainant has made the disclosure. An appropriate authority is defined in the Act as including:

- (a) includes:
 - i) The Commissioner of Police
 - ii) The Controller and Auditor-General
 - iii) The Director of the Serious Fraud Office
 - iv) The Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security
 - v) An Ombudsman
 - vii) The Police Complaints Authority

- viii) The Solicitor-General
 - ix) The State Services Commissioner
 - x) The Health and Disability Commissioner; and
- (b) Includes the head of every public sector organisation, whether or not mentioned in paragraph (a)."

Clause (b) can mean in certain circumstances the appropriate authority could be the Secretary for Education of the Ministry of Education or the Chief Review Officers of the Education Review Office (ERO)

Why can't I just go to the appropriate authority myself?

There are three circumstances when a complainant can go directly to the appropriate authority:

- (a) When a complainant believes that the head of the organisation is also a party to the wrongdoing or has an association with the person which would make it inappropriate for them to investigate
- (b) If the matter needs urgent attention or there are other exceptional circumstances
- (c) If after 20 working days there has been no action or recommended action on the matter to which the disclosure related:

Otherwise you need to go through the internal processes.

What happens if even the appropriate authority does nothing?

The complainant could then make the disclosure to the Ombudsman (unless they were the authority you have already disclosed to) or a Minister of the Crown.

The Act does not protect a complainant if you disclose information to the media or a member of parliament other than a Minister of the Crown in the circumstances referred to above.

Protected Disclosures Act 2000

Information for Staff

The "Protected Disclosures Act 2000" came into effect on 1 January 2001. The Act required that public sector organisations such as schools have an internal process that staff can use if they wish to make a protected disclosure. The following information details this process and provides you with the information about the protections given in the Act.

Who can make a protected disclosure?

Are you:

- A staff member (either temporary or permanent)
- A contractor supplying services to the school
- A former staff member (either temporary or permanent)

If you fit into any of these categories, you are able to make a disclosure under the provisions of this Act.

Note: "The Act does not apply to parents or members of The Trust Board unless they are staff members of the school. It is for the protection of employees. For the purposes of this Act the Proprietor is the employer. As a public sector organisation boards are required to have an internal procedure for staff, contractors, or former employees to make protected disclosures within the school."

What is a "protected disclosure"?

Protected means that as long as you have reasonable grounds to believe that a serious wrong doing is being done by or in the organisation by the above people you can report in good faith asking that the wrongdoing be investigated without worrying about negative consequences.

It is important to remember that this is an Act to protect employees and the disclosure will be about the employer or another employee, not a student or parent.

What is a serious wrongdoing?

The Act defines a serious wrongdoing as being any of the following:

- (a) An unlawful, corrupt, or irregular use of public funds or public resources; or
- (b) An act, omission or course of conduct that constitutes a serious risk to public health or public safety or the environment: or
- (c) An act, omission or course of conduct that constitutes a serious risk to the maintenance of law, including the prevention, investigation, and detection of offences and the right to a fair trial: or
- (d) An act, omission, or course of conduct that constitutes an offence; or
- (e) An act, omission or course of conduct by a public official that is oppressive, improperly discriminatory, or grossly negligent, or that constitutes gross mismanagement"

How am I protected?

You are "protected" when making a disclosure in the following ways:

- Your identity will be confidential unless you give permission to be identified
- You cannot be victimised by your employer for having disclosed the information
- You are not liable for civil or criminal proceedings for disclosing the information
- If you believe that you have been unfairly treated in your job or unreasonably dismissed following a disclosure you can take the personal grievance against your employer

There are some limitations to this described in the Act. These are:

1. Every person to whom a protected disclosure is made or referred must use his or her best endeavours not to disclose information that might identify the person who made the protected disclosure unless:
 - (a) that person consents in writing to the disclosure of that information; or
 - (b) the person who has acquired knowledge of the protected disclosure reasonably believes that disclosure of identifying information:
 - i) is essential to the effective investigation of the allegations in the protected disclosure; or
 - ii) is essential to prevent serious risk to public health or public safety or the environment; or
 - iii) is essential having regard to the principles of natural justice.
2. A request for information under the "Official Information Act 1982" (other than one made by a member of the police for the purpose of investigating an offence) may be refused, as contrary to this Act, if it might identify a person who has made a protected disclosure."

This protection depends on you making the disclosure in accordance with the internal procedure.

Where can I find out more information?

- If you notify the Office of the Ombudsman verbally or in writing, that you have disclosed or are considering a disclosure under this Act, they must provide information and guidance on a number of matters including those discussed here and the protections and remedies available under the "Human Rights Act 1993" if the disclosure leads to victimisation.

Boarding Fees

Rationale:

To ensure that boarding fees are set at a level needed to maintain an appropriate standard of care for all students.

Guidelines:

In September of each year the Hostel Management Board will recommend to the Mission College New Plymouth Trust Board an appropriate level of fees in accordance with the stated rationale above.

A recommended level will be determined by the Hostel Management Board giving due consideration to

- I. Budget forecasts
- II. Staffing levels
- III. Capital works programming
- IV. Long term maintenance schedule
- V. Occupancy rates

Once ratified by the Mission College New Plymouth Trust Board, boarding fees will be published in all Hostel publications and newsletters and communicated with parents/caregivers.

Boarding fees will be paid

- I. Prior to the commencement of each term in four equal instalments or
- II. Prior to the commencement of the College year in ten equal instalments from January to October or
- III. Prior to the commencement of the College year in one lump sum payment
- IV. In special circumstances a payment schedule approved by the Hostel Management Board.

Boarders enter the Hostel under the following provisions:-

- I. For early termination of the Hostel Agreement one school term (10 weeks) notice is required. If this is not forthcoming 10 weeks fees will be charged in lieu of notice. This equates to the annual fee being divided by 40, times by 10 equals to the amount owed.
- II. For Year 12 and 13 students finishing at Sacred Heart Girls' College the early termination notice does not apply for Term 4 of that year.
- III. No refunds are made should the Boarder leave during term time.
- IV. No refunds are made if the Boarder is stood down, suspended, excluded or expelled from College or Hostel.

The Hostel Management Board has in place procedures to recover any unpaid fees.
